“Reconsidering the Arab Uprisings: The Great Game Over Syria”

SPEAKER

KARIM MAKDISI
Associate Professor, International Relations
The Department of Political Studies
The American University of Beirut (AUB)

Karim Makdisi is an Associate Professor of International Relations in the Department of Political Studies and Public Administration and Chair of the Program in Public Policy and International Affairs at The American University of Beirut (AUB). He is a Senior Research Fellow (and formerly Associate Director) at AUB's Issam Fares Institute for Public Policy and International Affairs, where he also serves as the faculty research director for the "UN in the Arab World" program. Makdisi is the co-editor (with Vijay Prashad) of Land of the Blue Helmets: The UN in the Arab World (University of California Press, 2015) and Intervention in Conflict: International Peacemaking in the Middle East (Palgrave-Macmillan, 2015). He is working on a manuscript analyzing the politics of UN decision-making in Lebanon centered around the 2006 war. His most recent publication is: “Reconsidering the Struggle over UNIFIL in Southern Lebanon” in the Journal of Palestine Studies (2014). He is a lead researcher in the “Shifting Regional Order/Dis-Order” collaborative project between IFI-AUB and The Danish Institute for International Studies (2014-2016). Makdisi was a founding member of, and served on the first Board of Trustees of the Arab Council for the Social Sciences (ACSS).
